

WaitWait, Tell Me Again, Jed Rivers

G F
No, wait, wait, tell me again.

G F
Who's that guy you went and left me for.

G F
The one who dazzles and lights your fire
G F
No, wait, wait, tell me again

C D
I saw him hanging round the shopping mall

C D
But he looked to be quite a bit older

C D
He was in the Home Depot, shuffling around
C A
ripped the fentanyl patch off his shoulder,

No, wait, wait, tell me again.
Who's that guy you went and left me for.
The one who dazzles and lights your fire
No, wait, wait, tell me again

Standing in the doorway vaping in the night
sucked on it, and held it tight
He was weaving and bobbing and barely stood strait
No wait, wait tell me again

I don't suppose you know how his tragic life ends
He wasn't a sinner, but wasn't quite a saint
He didn't last the night with that bag in hand
When fell and slid into a dead faint?

No, wait wait,tell me again.
Who's that guy you went and left me for.
The one who dazzles and lights your fire
No, wait, wait tell me again
